BILSON FACADE

Utilising unconventional angles and offering a home filled with character, the Heydon B offers surprises and style at every turn. The galley style kitchen acts as the central hub of the home, with the main living space overlooking an expansive dual alfresco.

A secluded master retreat with ensuite and walk-in-robe allows separation from the living spaces, while the remaining bedrooms are well placed to make the most of both family living and offering a space for guests to retreat to. Complete with separate study area and dedicated media lounge area, this home is certainly an entertainer's delight.
